RUSSIN Attitude From U.S. Pressures Toward Iraq 1991-2003

Bashar Fat-hi Jassim AL-Okaydi

Assikt, lecturer, History Department, Education College, Mosul University

Abstract

Political conditions in Iraq during the economic blockade imposed by Security council due to Iraqs invasion to Kuwait in 1990 have played a large role in showing some political attitudes. This paper tacked the Russian attitude towards U.S. attitude in Iraq. Russia through Iraq tried to get political gains represented by opposing U.S. policy against Iraq through decision issued by security council. Also, Russia through this attitude had got economic gains through Russian companies which were working inside Iraq this attitude began to be more flexible when Russia confirmed that U.S.A. was determined to attack Iraq regardless of all refusing voices to solve the problem diplomatically.
